“ I will never forget the day that I met Ms. Anita Watson. She came tromping through “my woods” (that served as a camp/hideout for an 11 year old me) with three little boys in tow, introducing herself and announcing that they had bought the property and planned to build a house. I wanted to be mad, but she was so darn sweet, I just couldn’t. And I have loved her every day since. Rest in peace, sweet lady where there no more pain, no more sickness only joy. Until we meet again.
