“ *I Am Writing to Dad.
Dad I am writing to you because I miss you.
Dad I am writing to you because I miss you.
Dad I am writing to you because I forgive you for throwing a fastball so fast it broke my brand new Louisville Slugger in two.
Dad I am writing to you because I have and will always love you for your unwavering love for God and family your devoted love to Mom, children want to believe their parents are soulmates with you two it was true.
Dad I am writing to you because I want you to know I will never forget you and to thank you for those loving last words you spoke to me on Fathers Day "I Love You too, Son".
Dad I am writing to you.... I miss you.*

*Your loving son,
Robert*

“ Just always meeting my father in law every day was a fondest memory. When he laughed he laughed with you, when he cried, he cried for you. He taught me that people have strong un-waivering faith that carried them threw good time and bad. And he showed us all countless times that faith is a rock that anyone and anybody could lean on for any reason.

I will miss you terribly dad, but I'm so very glad I got to call you dad.

Thank you and rest in peace

There won't be a day that goes by that I won't think of you.

“ Grandpa,

I was always hoping I would have you around for many more years, but God had other plans. Even though I want to be selfish and angry, I know in my heart this is what you wanted and are in a better place. Last year, when my dad passed, you came and prayed over him. My dad wasn't the most religious man, if at all, but you prayed over him anyway. My dad woke up and said the prayer with you like he was accepting Jesus in his heart one last time. Maybe this was your final task before God took you home. I believe you saved his soul and now you both are watching over us all from heaven. You were the most thoughtful, caring, and honest man I've ever known and have taught me so much. Rest easy grandpa, I can't wait to hug your neck again.

“ My daddy was a very special man. He was a very kind, caring and a loving daddy. Always willing to come help when I needed him to fix my broken appliances. You are going to be truly missed daddy. Thank you for bringing me up loving Jesus. I remember the family togetherness as you would read to us children from the bible and had prayer with us. All our road trips will not be forgotten. I know you are finally home with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ! I will see you again one day! You will me missed daddy! I love you Christine
