“ One of my best memories of Russ was when we were at the river. He decided he was going to cross to the other side. Rather than swimming, he decided to walk... all the way across. When he reached the middle, all that could be seen were his two hands sticking up above the water. In his left hand were his cigarette's and his right was his beer. Typical Russ fashion. Russ, this old world won't be the same without you.

Been years but when I was much younger I considered him a great friend. We had a lot of good times. I ran away from home when I was a teen and he brought my mom to find me. Real friend. The world will be a lesser place without him. Fly high friend you will be missed
